„Yā rasūla l-llāh, nurīdu an nakūna ma'aka fi l-janna!“

Wa nad'ū l-llāh (jj): „Yā Allāh, ij'alnā bi n-naẓari ilā wajhika l-karīm as'ada man fi l-janna!“

The Messenger once asked a Bedouin who had accepted his invitation: „Do you have a wish?“ The Bedouin replied: „A camel mare with a saddle that my wife can also milk“. The Messenger said, „Is he not able to be like the old woman of the people of Israel?“

The companions asked: „Who is the old woman of the people of Israel, yā Rasūla l-llāh?“ He replied: „When Mūsā brought the children of Israel out of Egypt, they lost their way.“ He asked, „Why is this happening to us?“

The scholars replied, „When Yūsuf was dying, he made us swear by Allah that we would not leave Egypt without taking his bones with us.“

Mūsā asked, „Which of you knows where his grave is?“ The scholars replied, „None except an old woman of the people of Israel.“ Mūsā sent for the old woman and said, „Show us the grave of Yūsuf.“ The old woman replied, „No, by Allah, not until you make me a promise.“ Mūsā asked her, „What shall I promise you?“ She replied, „That I will be with you in Paradise.“

By the example of this old woman, the Messenger of God teaches us that it is not wise to ask only a camel from him in response to his question. — No, we Muslims should think bigger, just as our Lord and His Prophet surpass everything in beauty and majesty.

We ask the Messenger of Allah, „Ya Rasulillah, we want to be with you in Paradise!“

And we ask Allah: „Yes Allah, grant us Paradise and let us in the sight of Your sublime face be exceedingly happy there!“

But the face of your Lord still remains - the Lord of majesty and honour.
